

BW Board Takes of Election 'What ifs?'

With the Nov. 7 election rolling around in about three weeks, Big Walnut board members tossed a few thoughts around Monday night about the proposed bond issue on the ballot and what the outcome could mean for the district.

While trying for the bond issue again is still a strong possibility, board members also agreed that if the issue fails, they may need to take a deeper look into other possible options. According to board members, these could include more modular classrooms, split sessions, or increases in class size.

"If the bond issue doesn't pass," said Board Member Phyllis Taylor, "we're going to have to sit down and think of which one of these roads we're going to go down."

And Superintendent Carl Martin reminded that should the issue fail, it would probably be at least next November before they could get the issue back on the ballot. Costs would need to be refigured, and the district would have to get re-certified for special needs status, he pointed out. All of this means more time and money, he said.

"If the bond issue passes, we're still looking at a 2½-year project to completion," said Martin. "If it doesn't pass, add another year on the 2½-3 years for every election down the road that it doesn't pass."

Also, members pointed out that even if they would pass the issue now or in a couple of years, adjustments may be needed in the meantime.

For example, Board President James Heine pointed out that even if the issue passes, they may need to add more modulars temporarily since completion of the new high school would take time.

"The delays will prove more costly," agreed Martin. "They already have."

Martin announced that a Bond Issue Rally-Parade will be held Friday, Nov. 3. The parade will leave the high school around 5 p.m. and march around the Sunbury Square.

arriving back at the high school around 5:30 p.m.

In other action Monday night, members heard a brief report of the results of the recent evaluation completed by the State Department of Education.

"I'm very pleased with the results of the evaluation," said Martin. Although 11 violations appeared on the report, Martin pointed out they did considerably well when considering the volume of areas covered in the evaluation.

"I think we'll find our report to be very minor," he said. The high school and intermediate were cited for having unapproved courses of instruction. However, going over the list, Martin explained that many of these courses are currently being revised and are simply waiting for state approval.

Others, he said, have been deleted but were still shown on the master schedule. The high school, the intermediate, Hygien Souders were cited for assigning teachers without the proper certification. As for this, Martin explained one teacher's paper work had not been turned in and the two others are in their final stages of completing certification requirements.

In addition, the intermediate and the two elementary were cited for needing to correct violations on recent health inspection reports. According to Martin, they are in the process of making the necessary repairs and/or adjustments.

The only violation they are unsure of how to comply with, said Martin, is one citing the elementary of not having proper counseling services. We expected to be cited for that," said Martin.

While the district is not required to have elementary counselors, it is required to have services available, explained Martin. However, he said, the high school counselors are spread too thin as it is. Therefore, said Martin, it will

Judge, School Board Hopefuls To Be at 'Night'

Big Walnut Area Chamber of Commerce will hold "Meet the Candidates" night next Thursday, Oct. 26, at the Big Walnut High School cafeteria, starting at 7 p.m.

Candidates in contested races will then have three minutes each to talk about themselves and discuss their goals and objectives.

As of Monday, the Chamber reported that members of the KIDS Committee, candidates for Big Walnut School board and candidates for judge are scheduled so far.

The meeting is scheduled to end around 10 p.m. An informal get-together will follow. Coffee and cookies will be served and guests will have a chance to talk one-on-one with some of the candidates.

Name Human Services Director

Delaware county commissioners Monday announced the hiring of a new head of the Dept. of Human Services.

Richard Calcara, Worthington, was hired as director of the department, to replace Nancy Perry, who resigned this summer. Calcara takes office effective Nov. 1.

Commissioners also hired Pearlina Howard, of near Waldo, as the new supervisor of the county's Emergency Medical Service, replacing Ed Dick who has since become the county's Emergency Management Agency director. Howard's appointment was effective Monday, Oct. 16.

Last week, commissioners created an 8-member Water Task Force to study the needs and capabilities of the county's water supplies for the next 40 years. The committee is to analyze water needs for the county, study the impact of Columbus' quest for more water on Delaware county, determine areas of no service and work with nearby suppliers to extend services regardless of traditional boundaries, and then report back in a year's time.

Appointed to the Task Force are Phil Fretos, superintendent of the Sunbury Water Dept., Colin Swift, Nestle plant manager, representing Sunbury-area industry, and Tom Stearns, general manager of Del-Co Water.

Also representatives from Delaware city, and the Delaware Industrial Council are on the committee, as is Rick Orenty, superintendent of the Orenty Environmental Control Center, and Bill Bonner, representing developers in the county.

Commissioners set the second hearing on Fiscal Year '89 Community Development Block Grant funds for next Monday, Oct. 23. That hearing will be at 9:30 a.m.

And the board agreed to open bids for the removal of the county's underground storage tanks next Wednesday, Oct. 25, at 9:00 a.m.

Commissioners approved an 876-acre subdivision at 9030 Columbus Pike in Orange twp. DelColma Partnership owns the three lots along U.S. 225.

Davidson Phillips, Inc. owns 10,884 acres being divided into 34 lots at Green Meadows Village No. 4. The subdivision has lots along Green Meadows Drive West, Northwest Drive and Slate Run Drive, all in Orange twp. near Powell.

And, Langshire Ltd. Partnership is the owner of Bale-Kenyon Bluff No. 1 subdivision, approved last week along Bale-Kenyon Rd., Orange twp. That subdivision consists of 15,318 acres into 19 lots.

Genoa Trick Or Treat To Be on Tuesday

Genoa twp. beggars should go begging on Tuesday night, Oct. 31, instead of Monday, reports township clerk Jean Evans.

Genoa twp. will officially have its Trick or Treat night from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 31. "We're sort of betwixt and between," Jean explains, "so we're having it the same night as Westerville is."

Evans says, however, that some residents will probably hold Trick or Treat on Monday, same night Galena and Sunbury observe it. "Maybe people could turn their lights on to let the kids know they're open for beggars," Jean adds.

Local Law Agencies Join Drug Hotline

Delaware county law enforcement agencies have joined the state hotline against drug abuse.

According to Sunbury Police Chief Walt Neace, local law enforcement agencies have joined together in a multi-jurisdictional drug task force called Law Enforcement Against Pushers (L.E.A.P.).

This task force has a toll-free hotline available for persons wishing to make tips to police about drugs and pushers. That number is 1-800-625-6608.

The task force will receive all information and review it, with the intent of acting on all information that can be corroborated.

"The Drug Hotline should be called by citizens who wish to report suspected or known sales of illegal drugs, or other drug-related activity," Neace says. He adds that all sources will be kept confidential through the hotline.

Band Steps Into Final Weeks of Season

Big Walnut High School Marching Band performed for the last home football game Friday night and has a busy next two weeks as the season winds to a close.

In the above photo, majorette Lorie Emmert twirls three batons during the band's half-time show, dedicated to this year's seniors. The band then played after Big Walnut beat Bexley for a post-game concert. Besides playing at Big Walnut away games this Friday night and next, the Big Walnut Marching Band, Drill Team and Flag Corps competes this Saturday in the Newark Invitational.

Then, on Nov. 3, the band will hold its second annual Marching Band Concert at 7:30 at the high school, following a pizza supper provided by the M & M Boosters. The band will also lead the KIDS Committee parade that afternoon, prior to the pizza dinner.

Following Friday night's game, the BW marchers performed during the halftime of the Ohio Wesleyan University home game against Denison.

Next meeting of the Sunbury Business Association will be held Tuesday, Nov. 14, at which the group will discuss its constitution and by-laws. The business group meets the second Tuesday, at 6:00 p.m., at the Lions building.

Library Friends Offer 'People Book'

Community Library Friends are taking orders for copies of the 1976 community compilation of The People Book, according to Friends secretary Charlene Tweedy.

Made possible as a gift by Mrs. Dorothy Burrer in memory of her husband, Carlton, the first printing of The People Book will contain 100 copies. The Friends will be selling the copies for $21.00 each in soft binding, but hard binding will be available for an additional charge.

The People Book contains over 200 stories of people of the Sunbury area, both past and present. It took over two years to complete. Tweedy points out, and "the number of persons in their family stories is impossible to calculate."

Tweedy says interested persons may make advance orders at the Community Library, or can mail requests to the Community Library Friends, Box 6, Sunbury, Ohio 43084. Books should be made out to the Library Friends, she adds.

"One hundred copies of The People Book will be printed for sale before Christmas," Tweedy says. "Get your order in soon!"

When one envisions floods, blizzards, tornadoes, earthquakes or other major disasters, somehow the American Red Cross falls right into the picture.

But that's not the only time it should flash to mind, according to Dick Snouffer, director of the local Delaware county chapter. In fact, points out Snouffer, "There isn't an individual in the county that really isn't touched by the Red Cross... in many ways they don't even know it."

An organization originally set up to handle major emergencies such as floods, blizzards and tornadoes, the Red Cross echoes the motto, "When there will be no loneliness, no destitution, no sickness, no war, only then will there be no need for the American Red Cross."

However, its responsibilities have grown considerably over the years, says Snouffer. It's no longer an organization which only shows up in times of disaster, he says. It's now an organization which shows up right next door, more often and in more ways than one might think.

Starting off, the Red Cross is prepared to help individuals and families in times of emergency situations.

For example, Snouffer says it families were burned out of their homes last winter. In such cases, the Red Cross is on hand to distribute needed equipment such as furniture, appliances and other basic necessities. And in some cases, these are families who are uninsured, he says.

About 120-150 families are assisted each year with smaller emergencies, he says. Often these involve donations of less than $100.

"We do so much to prevent homelessness," he notes, explaining that their association often means the difference between people staying in their homes or not.

"It takes a donation of $50-$75 to make the vital difference of allowing them to stay in their homes," he explains, "it makes a tremendous amount more sense." If the people are put out, he explains, it ends up costing even more.

Other services offered through the Red Cross include swimming lessons at area pools, boating safety courses and advanced life-saving and lifeguard training.

Also, notes Snouffer, the local chapter was one of the main organizers of the Central Ohio Safe Boating Council. He explains the council was formed as a joint effort to promote safe boating and includes representatives from several county agencies.

The council, he adds, is much needed since Delaware county ranks second in the state in the number of underwater acres, and has the second longest shoreline.

Basic health and safety services include CPR and first-aid training, sports medicine clinics, and even courses on such topics as blood pressure and baby-sitting.

In addition, trained safety service volunteers are on hand at many community events. For example, over 400 people were treated at the Delaware County Fair this year, says Snouffer, "ranging from bee stings, to seizures, to heart attacks."

Going on, the local chapter also has a contract to provide blood services under the Central Ohio Regional Blood Center of the American Red Cross. The bloodmobile can canvass the county visiting businesses, industries and schools.

According to Snouffer, there are 40 hospitals in 26 counties which receive blood collected locally.

A total of 550 units of blood are needed each day in central Ohio, he explains. Half of all donors need to be O positive or O negative.

And the number of visits the bloodmobile makes is ever increasing. Three years ago, Snouffer says they visited 32 sites. This past year they visited 66. He says he expects the number to be around 70 this year.

However, Snouffer points out that out of all the eligible donors, only about five percent actually donate.

"We have to increase that donor base," he says. "The need for blood continues to grow."

And referring to an old Woody Hayes phrase about needing to "pay ahead," Snouffer comments that "it's not anywhere more true than in the blood services."

That's because about 99 percent of us, he says, will need blood for some reason or another by the time we are 70 years old. It's important to give when we can, he says, so the blood is also there when we need it. "And you can only give when you're healthy," he reminds.

Also, Snouffer adds that even though some don't like to give blood, the donor is actually getting a good deal.

"You give up a pint of your old blood, and in return, you get a pint of new blood," he smiles. "It's just like changing your oil."

"It's also part of the miracle of life," he adds, pointing out that there's still no artificial way of producing blood.

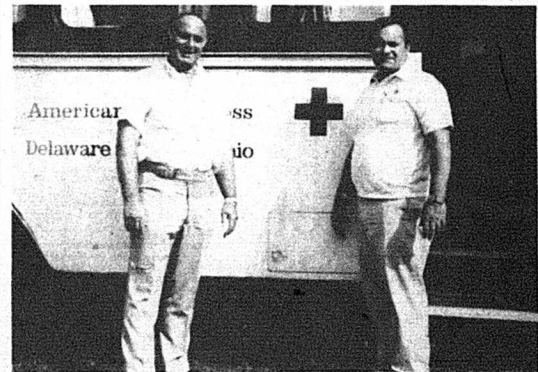

Adding into the list of services, the Red Cross also gives guidance and assistance to local military personnel and their families in emergency situations. For example, by providing 24-hour worldwide telecommunications, a military person can often be on his way home in 24 hours in case of an emergency, says Snouffer.

International services are also on the agenda. The Red Cross is involved in international exchange programs. It also provides services such as health and safety courses and language banks to foreign visitors, ethnic groups, new citizens and students, in addition to its regular services.

Overall, Snouffer points out the Red Cross often acts as a "catch all." While all of the county agencies are beneficial, he says, there are often limits as to what they can provide and how much. The Red Cross, therefore, is often the "safety net" to catch those who can't receive the services they need anywhere else.

But who does all this work? Who runs all of these programs? Mostly volunteers, answers Snouffer. The only paid Cross, and Dan Pullen, safety services chairman. Both were on site at Methers' Thelological Seminary Friday afternoon, where college runners from throughout the state were competing.

Bond Issue Is Sound; Timing Is Critical

Editor's Note: The following article has been supplied by the Big Walnut KIDS Committee which is actively seeking passage of this fall's bond issue for Big Walnut Schools.

In 1986 the Big Walnut School Board hired a consultant to assess population growth as well as the current status and future use of our educational facilities. The community was invited to participate in a study of the consultant's report and to make recommendations to the school board. Based on this facility study and the community's recommendations the bond issue plan was developed. In the three years since the study the projected student growth statistics have been right on target.

Big Walnut has been designated a Special Needs district. Current state law allowed Big Walnut to apply for and receive this designation due to its rapid and continued growth and 2) our aging and inadequate facilities. The special needs designation allows our district to raise our debt limit and proceed with a comprehensive (K-12) updating of facilities. A bond issue provides money to repay investors who have purchased interest bearing bonds issued by the school board. Big Walnut School Board has retained the services of the Ohio Company, Huntington Bank, and Delaware County Bank. These institutions are well versed in the handling of bonds. Their primary objective is to sell the bonds at the lowest interest rate and structure our financing in a manner to keep millage as low as possible.

The architects, Schooley Caldwell Associates, have worked closely with school staff and board members to accurately reflect our needs and requirements. Two architects from the firm live and have children enrolled in the district. This is a different firm from the architects used for Big Walnut Elementary and Souders Elementary.

Our new high school will not be a castle! It will be functional, as maintenance-free as possible, energy efficient, attractive but not ornate. We are not building any new facility that will require a new staff of people.

After the defeat of the bond issue in Nov. '88 and Feb. '89, KIDS Committee undertook a survey. Within the next week KIDS volunteers will begin going door to door distributing fact sheets on the bond issue. KIDS has made every attempt to communicate with the voters about the bond issue.

If the bond issue passes in November, we are looking at a two to two and a half year construction time to complete a high school and building renovations. This means that relief for crowding will not be immediate. Any delay in passage only delays the relief of over-crowded and inadequate conditions and increases their severity. Regardless of whether the bond issue passes or fails, operating funds will be needed and on the ballot in 1990. The three-year operating issue passed in 1987 will expire in 1990. Both teachers and non-certified personnel will be negotiating contracts in 1990. The school board is seriously looking at the income tax alternative (passed in July 1989 by the state) for providing operating funds and relieving the burden of property tax on taxpayers.

If the bond issue fails, our problems remain and multiply. We will continue to seek operating dollars on ASBESTOS. We will need to add modular classrooms at about $50,000 a unit and consider running split sessions. Class size will increase as will the educational problems associated with it. We will need to increase administrative and support staff. Our educational programs and extra-curricular activities will remain at a standstill. Essential repairs to buildings will have to be made out of operating dollars.

Without your support on Nov. 7, this community may lose one of its most precious possessions - a quality education.

gave an overview of savings in gas and electric costs in the elementary schools in the past four years. Participating in the Self Help Gas Program, said Martin, has made a tremendous difference.

(As an example, Martin said) at Souders they have saved over $3,300.00 in gas costs during the '88-'89 fiscal year, and nearly $33,000.00 over the past four years.

Significant savings have also been made with electric bills, said Martin. For example, he cited a decrease of nearly $2,900.00 between the '85-'86 bill and the '88-'89 bill at Souders. Martin announced that the district is being charged a surcharge for each non-teaching employee who works less than $7,710.00 per year. These employees, many of whom are substitutes or part-time, explained Martin, all pay into the School Employee Retirement System (SERS). Because their salaries are relatively low, said Martin, they pay less into the system.

Therefore, explained Martin, charge, based on the employee's salary, and the money supplements the SERS benefits.

According to Martin, the district paid $14,737.00 in surcharges during the '88-'89 fiscal year.

It was also announced that the state auditor will hold a post audit next Thursday at 3:30 a.m.

The following contracts were adjusted: Jim Boyd and Dee Erickson, from BA+ to MA; and Deanna Arms and Clara Spurrer, from BA to BA+.

Board approved the Quit-Claim Deed, which deeds over the property to the Village of Galena, thus re-establishing the "alley" behind Galena 6 School.

Trenton Group To Promote Zoning Passage

Trenton twp. trustees have received numerous complaints about junk vehicles and trash piling up in the township, causing needless eyesores, potential risks to health, fire hazards, and lowering property values.

In response to the problem, township trustee Mike Wise says, a citizens group has formed to support the passage of the Trenton Zoning Referendum which will appear on the Nov. 7 ballot.

"Citizens for Preserving Our Rural Environment" is being co-chaired by Tom and Lil Brenner on Hartford Rd. The group will act to inform the voters of the township about the zoning referendum and work for its passage.

With the enactment of the zoning referendum, the township's zoning inspector could enforce existing state laws concerning junk vehicles, trash and debris. Wise explains, "Without the zoning," Wise adds, "the trustees can still enforce the laws but must go through a lengthy, expensive process to file charges through the county prosecutor's office."

"It's better to have someone locally working with residents to clean up the township than to have the sheriff come out and enforce a prosecutor's order to clean up a property," Wise continues.

The Brenners urge residents to contact them, at 965-2042, or one of the township trustees for more information about the issue.

With their long licorice legs, gundrop spiders creep across webs of frosting spun atop pumpkin cookies for a Halloween treat that's home-baked and wholesome.

Scary Spider Cookies are anything but frightening. Before the kids turn themselves into ghoulish ghosts and much fun in the kitchen making the candy spiders and spinning the frosting webs as they do trick or treating.

The cookie recipe won't spook the cook either. The spiced dough is made several hours ahead of rolling and baking. While the dough is firming up in the refrigerator and the kids are devising their candy long-legs, you can relax.

The frosting is so easy, the kids can make that, too. For less of a mess, let them weave their webs by piping the frosting out of a small-tipped plastic squeeze bottle or a heavy duty plastic bag with one bottom corner cut off.

It's a treat to know that pumpkin not only adds a golden glow to these whimsically eerie cookies, but it is a good source of vitamin A as well.

For a nutritious Halloween snack, offer trick or treaters glasses of milk to go along with the cookies and their not-so-spooky spiders.

Scary Spider Cookies (Makes about 2 doz. cookies)

3/4 c. all-purpose flour
2 Tbsp. pumpkin pie spice
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1 c. butter, softened
1 c. packed dark brown sugar
1/4 c. granulated sugar
1 egg
1 c. Libby's Solid Pack Pumpkin

Frosting

24 large gum drops
24 pieces thin licorice whip

St. Ann's

Sets Prenatal

Exercise Sign-up

St. Ann's Hospital Department of Childbirth Education offers the Moving For Two prenatal exercise program to encourage moms-to-be to remain fit through pregnancy, reports publicist Janet Mazik.

The next 4-week prenatal session begins Nov. 21, and meets twice a week, Tuesday and Thursday, 6:00 to 7:00 p.m.

Taught by a licensed therapist from St. Ann's Physical Medicine Department, the program provides mothers with an individualized exercise program, with emphasis on muscle tone, strength, and flexibility.

Mazik explains mini-lectures on structural and functional changes during pregnancy, maternal nutrition, relaxation techniques, and back care are included.

This class should be taken as early as possible during pregnancy and may be repeated, says Mazik. The prenatal exercise class requires a signed physician consent form which will be included with registration materials.

For more information or to receive registration materials, call St. Ann's Maternity Programs Information Line at 898-MOMS. Mazik concludes.

"PORCELAIN LAMINATES"

Perhaps the most exciting work in dentistry these days is being done with porcelain veneers, or laminates. Dentists custom-make the thin laminate to fit onto your teeth, like wood veneers on fine furniture and use a type of special adhesive to bond the laminate to the tooth surface.

This technique can turn broken, cracked, or even discolored teeth into nearly perfect specimens and it does so without grinding down the existing tooth to a stub as it would be if a traditional cap were being done.

Though porcelain veneers have been around for quite a long time, they have just recently been performed for general use.

Your dentist can answer any questions you may have about them.

Mr. and Mrs. John Scanlan

The cathedral train featured large bows trailing down the entire train with the same tulip-like flowers forming the center of each bow. Her veil of triple back ruffles trimmed with seed beads was made by the bride to match her gown. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, mini yellow carnations and lavender freesia.

Attendants wore pastel floral tea-length dresses, dropping to the ankles in the back. A reception was held at the F.O.F. Lodge in Gahanna.

staff members are Snouffer, who coordinates all the local programs, Judy Dornie, blood services coordinator (whose salary is reimbursed by the Regional Blood Services Center), and Jan Bauerle, secretary.

Otherwise, says Snouffer, "We rely on volunteers in every service area." He cites about 400 in the county who donate their time in some way.

The Red Cross receives 51 percent of its money through the United Way. The rest comes from donations and fees charged for its various educational programs.

The organization also raises money through special events, such as "Swing into Spring" with PIN (People in Need) triathlons, and at the Delaware County Fair.

The Red Cross also coordinates the water safety program at the Bud Lite Triathlon in June at Alum Creek State Park.

According to Snouffer, the Red Cross spent $114,000 last year, with 91 cents out of every dollar going to help people.

This year, he says, they will need approximately $120-124,000. And that's a "bare bone budget," he says.

Raising money isn't always easy, says Snouffer, and occasionally, agencies simply don't get as much as they need. However, he says in times of trouble, the Red Cross always responds, and so do the people.

"When it's a true emergency you respond," he says. "You go in and do what has to be done."

Somewhat, he says, the community always comes through in the end commenting, "You operate on a tremendous amount of faith in the people."

While the Red Cross campaign drive is concentrated around the month of March, Snouffer says donations are always more than welcome.

In addition, he stresses that individuals giving a few dollars here and there is just as crucial as the large donations. "A lot of people giving," he explains, "sometimes adds up to a lot."

Westerville Symphony To Open 7th Season

Westerville Civic Symphony begins its seventh season of concerts this Saturday, Oct. 21 at 8:00 p.m. with Maestro Albert-George Schram conducting.

A program featuring Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," Mendelssohn's "Reformers' Symphony," and Bruch's Violin Concerto No. 1 is planned to "let your spirits soar," the orchestra's theme this year, reports publicist Jeanne Earhart. The concert is at Cowan Hall on the Otterbein College campus, corner of North and West College Streets in Westerville.

One of the country's promising young violinists, Mihai Craivanescu, will be guest soloist. Earhart notes. A native of Romania, he currently is Artist in Residence at Bradley University in Peoria, Ill.

Season tickets for the three subscription concerts on Oct. 21, Feb. 10 and May 13 are being sold for $25 adults, $15 seniors, and $5 youth under 18. They will be available at the door as well as single tickets which sell for $8 for adults and $3 for youth.

Additional information is available at 895-1102, Earhart adds.

Over 200 BWE Students 'Just Say No'

Over 200 students in grades 3-5 at Big Walnut Elementary are participating in "Just Say No" clubs, according to B.W.E. staff.

Students meet once a month during their lunch recess. At the most recent meeting held Tuesday, students watched a film on a video promoting the "Just Say No" message.

Two events have been planned to celebrate "Just Say No!" International's Back to School theme for October. On Oct. 24, the clubs will host Judge Everett "Kip" Krueger.

And on Oct. 25, or Red Ribbon Day, club members will wear red ribbons to indicate their choice to be drug free. They will recite a pledge at an afternoon assembly, where Dr. Nelson Kraus, WSSXX's Healthwatch doctor, will speak. Kraus will also speak to students in grades K-2 earlier in the day.

Anyone in the community who has ideas for speakers or activities, or who would like to help financially, should contact Richard Rosato, principal, at 965-3902.

BW 6 Kids Learn Bike, Highway Safety

Students at Big Walnut Six School participated in a bicycle and highway safety assembly last Friday, which emphasized pedestrian training and awareness.

Kurt Zoellner, Joey Young and Julie Thompson.

Students viewed a video tape about bicycle safety and took part in a brief question and answer session during the assembly.

According to Principal Wes Newland, since the topic of accident prevention is an approved curricular concept, all sixth graders in the district will study these issues during their year at the Galena school.

Footballers Hold on for Win

by Steve Kesler

Was it the full moon? Perhaps the Friday the 13th mystique? Or was it the late third quarter bench clearing fight?

Big Walnut built a 22-point lead and then suddenly had to hang on for a 28-20 victory over Bexley last week at the high school's main field. "We don't have any fun unless we make the game interestingly close," joked Coach Rolfe DeLong as his team won its second straight against the Lions. "The key was we came back this week and put points on the board."

The visitors scored first when Shawn Marcum (40) gets block from Jeff Tutorow (28).

Boys Soccer Begins Tournament, Wins 7-0

by Bob Kennedy

Big Walnut's boys soccer opened post-season play this past Monday night with a bang, scoring a 7-0 win over Briggs in the Division II Tournament in Columbus.

The Eagles (6-10-2) surged into a 4-0 halftime lead with quick scoring early in the first half.

Jim Davis notched his third goal of the year on a penalty kick with 30 minutes left. Ben Denton then scored on a crossing pass from Greg Cochran for a 2-0 BW lead seven minutes later.

After a Briggs player accidentally kicked in BW's third goal of the match, Andy Cook scored for the first time this year on a header from Chad McAttee with five minutes left in the half.

In the second half, Adam Jones scored on a breakaway and on a direct kick from around 35 yards out for a 6-0 advantage. Darden Nicks then rounded out the scoring for BW with his first goal of the year with 10 minutes to play in the match.

The Eagles were the aggressors, taking 30 shots on goal to Briggs' five. Aaron Martin came up with five saves for the winners, Sybil 13 for the Bruins.

The Eagles now travel to Academy tonight (Thursday) as they continue along the tournament trail. Kick-off is set for 7 p.m.

The Eagles had a second goal not counted because it didn't touch the net after crossing the goal line, according to the officials.

Caudill is sending a letter of protest to the Ohio State High School Athletic Association asking for a review of the assigned official's credentials as a high school soccer referee.

As for the match itself, Bexley took a 2-0 halftime lead on goals by Bannon and Rodenfels, the latter being on a penalty kick with 17 minutes to play in the first half.

Big Walnut wrapped up the season with a 4-0 road victory over Granville Tuesday evening.

Jeff Bennett scored two goals, both in the first half. Jim Warner and Darden Nicks also added goals for a 4-0 lead at intermission.

Goalie Jack Krenniger had two saves and the visitors took 42 shots on goal. The Aces closed with six saves and the same number of shots on goal.

Coach Jim Caudill delivered a last game talk and his players responded. "The kids played well and were aggressive," he said.

After a promising start in the Division II Sectional Tournament, the week before, Big Walnut's golf team finished sixth in District play last Thursday at Mill Creek Golf Club in Ostrander.

The Eagles missed the qualifying cut to state competition this weekend at The Ohio State University Scarlet golf course by three strokes. BW totaled an 18-hole score of 337.

"I was disappointed that we didn't make it to the state," Coach Dean Duffey said. "We had a real good season despite that."

Senior Brian Reppart closed out his career with the Eagles by firing a seven-over-par 79 (42-37) to pace BW.

Next in line were freshman Ben Condit at 83 (42-41); senior Todd Heine with an 87 (44-43); senior Jeff Akers at 88 (47-41) and sophomore Kevin Geiger with 101 (57-44).

All of the BW players started on the back nine before completing the tourney on the front portion of the course. The Eagles closed out the season with a record of 47-23.

Coshocton won the tournament with a round of 315. Three other teams qualified to the state and they include Watertown (325); Academy (327) and Tuscarawas Valley (334).

New Lexington finished two strokes ahead of BW at 335. Following the Eagles were Circleville (338); Buckeye Valley and Portsmouth (340); West Muskingum (341); Athens (343); Bloom-Carroll (345); Hillsdale (348); Warren and River View (352) and West Union (367).

Booster Drive: Nov. 4

Big Walnut Athletic Boosters will hold their annual membership drive on Saturday, Nov. 4.

Kod and Muri Myers will direct the canvass, which will take place from 9:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m.

Boosters are in the process of evaluating several major projects. They include: new lights for the main field; additional practice fields; additional playing fields; regrading of main field and purchase of a van.

BW sponsors nine boys and eight girls varsity programs including reserve and junior high. There is a total of 37 separate teams.

The group has donated over $36,000 to the Athletic Department since 1968-67. They have already committed in excess of $10,000 this year.

A total of 130 athletes and cheerleaders along with adult helpers will be going door-to-door to help with the event, say the Myerses. Cost is a $5.00 donation.

North Union, especially with Eastman, is good," stated Coach Adams. "We got stuck on nine in the first game because of poor serving. When you don't get the ball in, you're not going to win."

Lisa Burkhardt finished as BW's top scorer with six points, including the first five in the opening game. Traci Weiss followed with two while Nicole Wheatall and Ronda Jackson added one each.

Big Walnut completed its Central Buckeye League schedule with a 4-7 record.

his down, it would have been a different story," said Coach Adams. "Still, it was our best hitting effort since we played Bexley."

"Give Highland credit, they play very well together," Adams further said. "But if we had gotten over the hump in the last game, we'd have been off."

North Union 2, BW 0. The Eagles traveled to Richmond last Thursday and went up against another ranked Central Ohio team.

The results weren't good as the eighth ranked Wildcats defeated Big Walnut 15-9, 15-1. One of the primary reasons for the downfall was the play of junior spiker Kim Eastman.

"North Union, especially with Eastman, is good," stated Coach Adams. "We got stuck on nine in the first game because of poor serving. When you don't get the ball in, you're not going to win."

Lisa Burkhardt finished as BW's top scorer with six points, including the first five in the opening game. Traci Weiss followed with two while Nicole Wheatall and Ronda Jackson added one each.

Big Walnut completed its Central Buckeye League schedule with a 4-7 record.

The victory enables the Eagles to finish above the 500 level in the Central Buckeye League with a 6-5 record.

"The girls played a terrific game," commented Coach Nadine Adams. "We had a very slow start, but they didn't let up."

BW was down 9-0 in the first match before coming back, said Adams. They trailed 8-0 in the second contest before rallying for the triumph.

Jodi Thompson was the leading scorer with 11 points. Kacey Walcott was next with ten and Kathy Lalowski contributed seven.

Highland 2, BW 0. The visiting Scots prevailed 15-9, 15-4 in this non-league parents night match Tuesday at the high school gym.

Kacey Walcott finished with eight points and an ace to pace the Eagles. Jodi Thompson chipped in with four points and Ashina Woods scored one on an ace.

BW was now 7-2 as it enters its final regular season game of the season tonight Thursday at Northridge.

The Cardinals, under third-year head coach Dana Stockdale, participate in the Ohio Athletic Conference and NCAA Division III.

Kelly, daughter of J. Marlene Robbins of Rubens Rd., Johnston, is a sophomore at the Redskins school.

Volunteer Work Keeps VFW Pool Open

Sunbury VFW Post #736 has completed its most successful swimming pool season in years, according to Jasper Pasini, of the post.

Pasini says it was questionable in the spring if the pool could even be opened for 1989. This was because of the general deterioration of the pool and the cost of repairing the equipment, he says.

Bill Edwards, however, active post member and native of Sunbury, took over the operation. And with his guidance and with the cooperation of the Sunbury Council, the job got done, says Pasini.

It took hundreds of volunteer hours, says Pasini. Work included repairing the pool, installing new equipment in the pump and filter house, and painting the pool, pump house and picnic tables. New umbrellas, pool ropes and test equipment were also purchased.

According to Pasini, this would have been very costly, except that Edwards and his assistants fabricated the frames from PVC pipes, with each filter containing 14 parts.

Sheila Micholes was then hired as pool manager and several others as lifeguards.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By Richard DeVore

In our two hundred years of national existence, we have made great strides. We have had unequalled accomplishments beyond fondest hopes.

In approaching our third century, we naturally have a future ahead of us. It will be a future of our own making. The manner in which we approach our problems will determine whether conflict and disaster - or success and happiness will be our lot in the years to come.

Disturbing events and trends should cause grave concern for the future. Psychiatrists, sociologists, revamped ideas on new morality, political views whether liberal or conservative, will NOT solve present or upcoming problems that we as individuals have created. Nor will man-made legislation supply answers to our main problems. In whatever future lies ahead, we as a nation of individuals, MUST realize our nation's strength - and success - will depend primarily on the character of our people. And, can anyone dispute an improvement in character is needed?
